Ledges Chiropractic Welcomes a New Doctor

Ledges Chiropractic Center would like to formally introduce you to Dr. Jarrod Bailey. He is a Life University graduate, was granted Magna Cum Laude Honors and the Clinic Excellence Award. During his studies Dr. Bailey wanted to get out into the world and help people as soon as possible so he not only completed his Bachelor's degree but also his Doctorate degree at an accelerated pace. Dr. Bailey is married to Ashley and they have two dogs.

We are very excited that Dr. Bailey made the decision to join our team to support our mission "To touch as many lives as possible – especially children". He follows the principle of Chiropractic put in place by the developer of Chiropractic BJ Palmer, "We never know how far reaching something we may think, say or do, today, will affect the lives of millions tomorrow."

Dr. Bailey has been accepting new patients and helping with our existing patients in the office. The patients really enjoy his eagerness to help them. So, please stop in to the office to say hello to Dr. Bailey.
